In 1958 Vincent Harrison had a vision to find something more inspiring than the usual North American fare, and it was then that he started to make his trips in search of authentic and inspiring tastes. The result is the VH line of sauces, dips and marinades. Over the years, VH has inspired everyday chefs to try something new; something a little more exciting, more fun, more exotic. And every day, Canadians across the country have poured, dipped or marinated a little fare into their cooking.

- Authentically Canadian
- Marinades, Soya, Stir-Fry, Simmer & Dipping sauces

In 1962 an English pub owner named Leopold Kerr invented a treat to serve his patrons in an effort to entice them to consume more ale. It was a sausage covered in spicy dough, fried and mounted on a stick. Leopold soon realized that he had a great product, and moved to Canada with the dream of commercializing it. He started by creating his signature batter and selling it to restaurants, but in an effort to maintain a consistent taste he eventually created a ready-made battered sausage. This snack has maintained its popularity over the years and can be found in many establishments across Canada today!

Pam was created in 1959 by Arthur Meyerhoff Sr. and Leon Rubin. In the 60's, Pam gained popularity and became a substitute for sautéing with high fat butter, margarine or oil. Over the years the company expanded their product line to include butter and olive oil sprays. In the 90's, Pam made the switch to canola oil, reducing saturated fats and offering users a healthier choice. In recent years ConAgra has continued to expand its product line to include Everbake for high heat baking applications, and Griddlemate to aid in releasing dough.

- Sprays for various applications
- Larger foodservice formats available
- #1 most trusted brand of cooking sprays

The Aylmer Canning Company was created in 1881 and eventually grew to over 50 plants across the country. Originally Aylmer produced not just tomatoes, but everything from soup to pickles! Today, the tradition of quality, passion and dedication is carried on through the hard work of Canadian farmers and the result is a delicious line of tomato products.
